🥪DarkMirror: OPSEC Self-Test Simulator v2.0

"A ghost isn't silent. A ghost is invisible."

Welcome to DarkMirror, a tactical OPSEC self-test made for darknet explorers, stealth enthusiasts, and digital phantoms. This test will help you identify how leak-proof your current habits are when operating in or around the dark web.

Answer with YES / NO to each question and count your points. Be honest, or you're only lying to yourself... and the NSA is laughing. 🚫🔣

Digital Identity

1. Do you use a unique username for every platform (Dread, Kilos, etc.)?
2. Have you created your dark web persona with fake DOB, location, and interests?
3. Have you ever reused a clearnet profile pic or avatar?
4. Is your writing style (slang, emoji, typos) intentionally different from real life?
5. Do you maintain strict alias separation (no crossover on email, forums, or tools)?

🥓Device & OS Hygiene

1. Do you use Tails, Whonix, or Qubes with no persistence?
2. Have you never logged into dark web stuff from your phone?
3. Do you avoid saving screenshots, notes, bookmarks from .onion sites?
4. Is your real system fully air-gapped from darknet systems?
5. Have you set your timezone and language to mismatch your IRL setup?

Network Stealth

1. Is your MAC address always randomized before connecting to any network?
2. Do you always use Tor over a secure VPN or with a Tor Bridge?
3. Do you test for DNS/IP leaks regularly?
4. Have you ever used someone else's WiFi (open café or burner hotspot)?
5. Do you disable JavaScript, WebRTC, and fingerprint leaks in your browser?

🌀Metadata & File Control

1. Do you scrub EXIF & metadata before uploading any file?
2. Do you avoid uploading files made on your main device (like PDFs, DOCs)?

3. Do you rename files randomly instead of using "document1.pdf" style names?
4. Have you used tools like `mat2`, `Exiftool`, or `Libre Metadata Cleaner`?
5. Do you double-check what you're uploading before posting on forums?
